

YWCA presents citizen, volunteer awards

The YWCA of Lancaster recently presented its outstanding citizen and volunteer awards.

Dorothy Lyet of Lancaster received the YWCA 2010 Citizen of the Year Award in recognition of her work to better the community and her work for the YWCA.

Susquehanna Bank received the YWCA 2010 Corporate Citizen of the Year Award for its support of social services. The bank has contributed to the YWCA's Pre-K Scholarship Fund and sponsored the Race Against Racism.

The President's 2010 Award was presented to retiring board member Flora Poulos of Leola.

Rita Smith Wade-El of Lancaster, a professor and director of African-American Studies at Millersville University, received the YWCA 2010 Racial Justice Award.

Laura Korach Howell, Judy Pehrson and Sherry Sensenig, all of Lancaster, received Yellow Rose Volunteer Awards for their dedication and service to the YWCA.

YWCA Yellow Bud Volunteer Awards were presented to the Akron and Solanco Big Sisters for their outstanding dedication as youth volunteers in the YWCA Sisters mentoring program.