Racism

RACISM, CONSIDERED:
YWCA Lancaster will hold a free Study Circle discussion group, "Facing Racism in a Diverse Nation," on Thursdays from Oct. 7 to Nov. 11, from 1-3 p.m., at 110 N. Lime St.

The group will be made up of eight to 12 people from different backgrounds and viewpoints who explore concerns about racism and look for ways to make things better. Participants try to understand each other's views but do not have to agree.

A trained facilitator will help the group focus on different aspects of the issue and ensure that all voices are heard and options explored.

To join, contact the YWCA Racial Justice Advocacy Coordinator, Lucy Ngokonyo-Weaver, at 393-1735 ext. 269.
